

ODO NNYEW FIE KWAN

Love never loses its way home

Although I always been longing for you
I thought I lost you
I thought I could finally live my life without you

Some say that time heals every wound
So I really believed time healed me from you

I lived my life
I did my time
I played my role
At times I was convincing,
At times I was not
I did it the best way I knew how to

Suddenly I saw myself
Softly crying on the plane
Just before reaching the ground
When the door opened and
I remembered your sweet herbal smell
Your warm embracement came so sudden

All at once
I knew I was
Back home
I refound my love
Now I remember and know and never to forget
Love you endlessly, Mama Africa
